Tonight's Wines reviews and information

*Eric Montintin Sancerre
2011*

AOC Sancerre, France

Super fresh, with straw, lemon zest and quince notes that extend through the finish, while fleur de sel and flint add a riveting feel underneath.

Case of 12: $299.40
($24.95 per bottle)

*Château Fontade St-Quinis
Rosé 2012*

Provence, France

David Lawrason 88 points

This very pale, pastel pink rose is very typical of Provencal roses. It has fragrant nose of sour cherry/currant jam, dried herbs and a floral note. It feels light but with 13.5% alcohol actually has some viscosity and heat, with a warm, slightly bitter pink grapefruit finish. The length is good to very good, with fruit and herbs persisting.

Price per bottle: $12.75 Available at the LCBO!

Château Favray Pouilly-Fumé 2011

AOC Pouilly-Fumé, France

Vic Harradine 4 stars

Herbaceous, flinty and floral... lemon-lime, ripe pineapple and orchard fruit riding a racy river over the palate. It's mid weight and nicely textured with a crisp, mouth-watering aftertaste. Well balanced and brimming with fruit flavour and good moderating acidity, it delivers on all counts. Pair with dressed arugula under crumbled chèvre.

Price per bottle: $21.95 Available at the LCBO!

Gloria Reynolds Tinto Real 2009

Alentejo, Portugal

A full body wine with a deep pomegranate color and an outstanding bouquet combining aromas of berry fruits with delicate floral scents. It is an elegant and easy to drink wine.

Case of 12: $162.00 ($13.50 per bottle)

Quinta de Lubazim Grande Reserve 2008

DO Douro, Portugal

Decanter Silver Medal

Dense purple colour with a wonderful cigar box nose and lovely integrated use of oak. Classic Douro with full ripe, rich fruit. A balanced delightful wine that is a pleasure to drink, with a lingering ripe aftertaste. Score: Gold Medal (Best in Class) (International Wine & Spirit Competition, 2011)

Price per bottle: $28.95 Available at the LCBO!

Domaine Papolle Gros Manseng 2011

Côtes de Gascogne, France

David Lawrason 91 points

Now here's a wine with character, even though some will find it too adventurous. It's an off-dry yet nicely tart-edged white with a terrific, exotic nose of apricot, evergreen/spearmint, honey and persimmon. It's mid-weight, fairly dense and rich with great acid-sugar ying-yang, and excellent length. I am not sure what the ideal match would be - but I can see it well chilled on the summer deck with Asian inspired salads, sushi.

Price per bottle: $16.50 Available at the LCBO!
